

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1874.

The murder of Julia Hawkes has been the subject of active investigation during the week by the detective officers, and another link in the chain of circumstances which surrounds Costley, the suspected author of the atrocity, has been discovered in the fact that he hired a buggy and stable in Boston, and when he returned to Weymouth, he was found in the buggy.

A further search for articles of clothing, including the hat and outer garment worn by the murdered woman has been made this week, the river having been searched by boat under direction of the State police, but nothing had been found at last account.

A new and somewhat plausible theory of the tragedy is that the murderer rode from Boston to Weymouth, the woman's bag taken from the stable containing the goose, and murdered her somewhere on the river bank, took her out at the River, returning thence to Boston. The rumors of blood found at the Hotel and others of a like nature are discredited by some of the officers in town.

The Coroners' jury held an adjourned inquest yesterday afternoon, the verdict expressing their belief that J. H. Costley was guilty of the murder.

An examination of the prisoner Costley will be held at Plymouth today, before a Justice.

THE OLD FOLKS CONCERT last Wednesday at the Union Chapel, Weymouth, was one of the most interesting occasions of the season. A large majority of the singers of the towns assisted in the concert, and with the East Weymouth Orchestra as instrumentalists, the music was rendered with vigor and precision. The audience completely filled the house, and the entertainment gave entire satisfaction to all present. A novelty in the line of music was presented by Mr. Stephen Bicknell, who favored the audience with a performance on the mouth organ of a piece of music which he has composed, entitled "Faithful Be-Joyful Bates," named after the "Schoolmaster," aided by Henry Newton, Esq., and others, brought down the house.

FUNERAL—Union Lodge of Good Templars, attended in a body the funeral of a member of the Lodge, Miss Jennie Dalton, who died of scrofulous consumption and was buried from the Universalist Church, Weymouth Landing, last Wednesday afternoon.

VERDICT—Governor Talbot has done every temperance man who knew his decided position as a friend of temperance expected he would do—returned the bill abolishing the State constabulary without his signature—his reasons therefor being summed up in cogent language.

WEYMOUTH PULPIT—The valuable record of Early Ministers of Weymouth, furnished by our esteemed contributor, "J. W. P." shows that Weymouth has had more than the average of distinguished clergymen as occupants of her pulpits. The article is worthy of careful perusal.

FIRE—A resident of South Weymouth, at work in the fields last week, placed his vest upon a fence, and while at work a conflagration broke out in one of the pockets of the garment, probably occasioned by a match, and the vest, worth $15 in bills, was destroyed, a valuable watch also being ruined. The owner has not even the consolation of an insurance policy.

THE NEW YORK ROUTE—The Tannum Gazette says the Old Colony Steamboat line, with their splendid new locomotive Royal Turner, the courteous and obliging crew, and the comfort of passage with their reconstructed line of magnificent Sound steamers, Bristol and Providence, is now the unrivaled sumptuous line for New York. It commenced June 1st, as the Old Colony through line.

THE CONCLUDING LECTURE of the Union Course at Weymouth was given last Tuesday evening, by Stillman B. Allen, Esq., of Boston. "The Enchanted Land" was a graphic and entertaining description of a trip to Maine, depicting its natural resources; its facilities for extensive commerce; its attractions for pleasure seekers; its equine fisheries; and other sports, making it truly an enchanting land. The lecturer was frequently applauded, and his lecture was pronounced one of the most interesting of the course.

INSTITUTION AT EAST WENWORTH

THE INSTITUTION OF CADETS AND TEMPERANCE, which took place on the evening of the 25th ult., in the vestry of the Methodist Church in East Weymouth, was an occasion of unusual interest.—

Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather, a large audience was in attendance and interested spectators filled the galleries of the meeting room. The ceremonies attending the institution were conducted by Deputy Grand Governor, I. F. Chase, assisted by a delegation of thirty Cadets from "Crystal Spring" Section No. 1, of East Cambridge. The excellent discipline of these Cadets and the proper execution of their exercises and performances of the beautiful ritual of the Order, went far toward rendering the occasion an eminently successful one.

After the institution of the Section, the following officers were installed:

W. G. W. H. Bartlett, 1st Asst. G.; George W. Davis, 2d Asst. G.; Frank G. Garsy, G. A.; Frank G. Fay; G. V. A. Fisher; Jas. W. Vining, Vice President; Arthur Cunningham, Chaplain; W. J. Earle, 1st Vice President; C. C. Miller, 2d Vice President; O. P. Arthur Nickerson.

The visiting Cadets were then ushered into the hall, where refreshments had been provided, of which they partook before returning to their homes. Meanwhile, the audience in the main room was addressed by Rev. S. L. Gracie, C. O. Turrell, Esq., G. W. R. of the Grand Temple of Honor, and W. H. Bartlett, in terms of approval of the Cadet movement, and the necessity of such organizations for the enlightenment of the youth of our country in the Temperance Reform.

The occasion was a complete success, and especially gratifying to the originators of an enterprise, the objects and purposes of which must meet the approval of all who are interested. To us the success of the temperance cause must devote more time and labor in this direction among the youth of our country.—The Cadet Order is well calculated to instruct its members in Virtue, Truth and Temperance, which are its cardinal principles. The Order is a school of truth, is beautiful, classic and instructive, teaching love to God, to parents and to country, and the total prohibition of all intoxicating drinks, wine or cider, as a beverage.

The Order is independent, and is not under the control of any similar organization or adults. It is a powerful auxiliary to all temperance organizations, and a field of labor which it is difficult to find an abundant harvest of workers, to perpetuate and carry forward to final and complete triumph this great moral reform.—As such, it should receive the attention and support of all lovers of the cause.

TEMPLAR.

Decoration Day.

The lovely weather of early summer, combined with a cool, fragrant wind, a fresh sea-breeze to temper the heat of the unclouded sun, the beauty of nature with all its bravura of young vegetation and vernal blossoms, and the general suspension of ordinary business avocations, made the circumstances of the day all that could be desired for the observance of the impressive and peculiarly appropriate ceremonies for decorating the graves of our fallen heroes.

At Weymouth, the assembly of Post #8 was called at Shaw's Corner at 12 o'clock, and the line was formed with about 150 men, when Stetson's Weymouth Band paraded down the street, performing the new "Gen. Bates' Quickstep," composed by Mr. W. F. Burrell and dedicated to the Post, for which they received the thanks of the Commander. The Quickstep was very favorable, impressing the vast crowd, led by the arrival of a little five year old girl, Mrs. May Joy, daughter of Mr. George F. Joy, who came to the front and gracefully presented Commander Bates with a beautiful bouquet, receiving for her a hearty kiss from the Commander. But another kiss was given to the band, and the residents of the village call for deserved commendation. A large lot of elegant flowers was also sent from Washington by A. J. Gunning, Esq., for the occasion.

The M. E. Church at East Weymouth was filled Sunday afternoon, the Commandant of the Post assembling with the officers, to listen to the excellent address of Constance Gracie, who at the conclusion of his remarks, in a few well chosen words, courteously presented Commander Bates with a handsome bouquet which he accepted. The altar, the organ, the Choir, under the direction of Post-Master, B. S. Lovell and Elbridge Nash, the efficient entertainment committee by whose labor of love the funds of the Post have been largely augmented—who, after the command had been formed into hollow square, were escorted to the church, and seated with their monograms, the gifts being furnished by private subscription of fellow members. The rings were manufactured by J. Federer & Co., Boston, at a cost of $60, and are beautiful specimens of their manufacture. Commander Bates was deputed to make the presentation address, which was as follows:

"The members of Post #8 have summoned me to the front, to perform their separation of the day, for the benefit of their kind remembrance of him on the morning of Memorial Day. It was a singular scene, when the Post and those dependent on its charity gathered together, to see the thoughts that go to make this life more cheerful and pleasant. They had good success of their prayers." He was Representative to General Court from Weymouth, 1849.

REV. SAMUEL BENJAMIN (of Joseph Hull) settled here 1835, and preached his farewell sermon May 5, 1839. He was afterward at York and Isles of Shoals. Less is known of him than of almost any other minister, because he seemed in the Ecclesiastical interest.

REV. THOMAS JENNER came here in 1837. The same year "divers of the elders came to Weymouth to reconcile the differences between the people and Mr. Jenner, in intent to make him their pastor. They had good success of their prayers." He was Representative to General Court from Weymouth, 1849.

REV. SAMUEL NEWMAN came to New England about 1836, settled here 1838. In 1843 he and a majority of his church removed to Rehoboth. He was afterward Concordite. Concord said to have been written "written by the light of evening knots."

REV. THOMAS THATCHER succeeded Mr. Newman. He was ordained Jan. 21, 1845, and preached here about twenty years, when he removed to Boston, where he was afterward pastor of the New South Church.

REV. SAMUEL TORREY succeeded Mr. Thatcher. He was son of William Torrey, Esquire, the original emigrant. He studied at Harvard College and twice refused the presidency of that institution. He preached the Election Sermon before the Governor here in 1845. He was a Congregationalist and was one of the greatest preachers of his time. Was ordained Feb. 14, 1845, and remained here until his death April 21st, 1870, in his 75th year. His tombstone may be seen in the Old North burying ground, in a somewhat dilapidated condition.

REV. FRANCIS THATCHER succeeded Mr. Torrey. He was settled here in 1847, and remained here until 1857. He was afterward pastor of the New North Church in Boston.

REV. THOMAS PAINE settled in Weymouth about 1847. He graduated at Harvard College 1847, and was father of the author. Thomas Paine, who signed the Declaration of Independence, he afterward resided here in 1847, and remained here until 1857. He was afterward pastor of the New North Church.

REV. WILLIAM SHAW was settled here in 1848. He was born 1795, graduated Harvard College 1795, died Sept. 17, 1853, at the age of 78. His daughter Abigail was the wife of President John Adams.

Judge Sewall, in his Diary, says "that in 1868 he went from Boston to Weymouth and heard Rev. W. H. Brainerd preach in the Union Chapel, the Soldiers' Monument at that place being tastefully adorned with flags pendant from the shaft and planted at each corner of the base." The Church was reached at a late hour. A very interesting programme of exercises had been arranged, excellent vocal and instrumental music being furnished by a choir of twelve voices and the Organist of the Church.

The Post filed into the seats at right and left of the centre aisle, and the service commenced with an organ voluntary, followed by the singing of an affecting selection, entitled "Cover them with a mantle, blessed Powers, appropriate them to thy service." The organist then played a solo selection, "A tear for the Comrade that's gone." Rev. E. P. McElroy of East Weymouth, who had kindly consented to occupy the position of organist, had a short ceremony performed by Capt. Monk, the Brass Band taking the lead, and the citizens on foot. The line of march was through Washington to Plain street Cemetery, when the Guards decorated the grave of Commodore Charles W. Morgan, and marched on to the Town Hall, where the service of the occasion was held. The Hall was well filled and the exercises were of much interest.

The Oration, by Rev. Dennis Powers, was replete with historical reminiscences, vividly portraying incidents in the life of our great American Statesmen, as Clay, Webster, Lincoln and Sumner; the latter his estimations of the Post. About 100 persons sat down to the well supper, which was served in the Union Chapel and from thence to North Weymouth, the Soldiers' Monument at that place being tastefully adorned with flags pendant from the shaft and planted at each corner of the base." "WE And Our NEIGHBORS" is the latest and raciest work by

Harriet Beecher Stowe,

Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "The Minister's Wooing," "My Wife and I,"

and other powerful stories, each the literary sensation of its period; and this story promises a like genuine and wholesome sensation. It bears directly on social topics of interest, embracing the record of youthful companionship, the brightness of happy home-life, the gaiety and fun of social life, the medical complications of neighborhood associations, and such follies and profound domestic miseries as have led to the widespread

Temperance movement of the day.

Mrs. Stowe is now in the prime of that genius which wrote "Uncle Tom," ripened by years of study and observation. Her novels are immensely popular, "Uncle

Tom's Cabin" alone out-selling by hundreds of thousands any edition of any original work ever published—see the Bible. Her book two years ago, "My Wife and I," outsold every contemporary.

Such a pure and enabling story as "We and Our Neighbors" should be read in every home. This attractive Serial is just beginning exclusively in the Weekly Family Newspaper,

THE CHRISTIAN UNION,

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1874.

THE CELEBRATION—Our readers, will find in the notice of the Committee, in another column, full particulars of the preparations made for the proper observance of the 25th anniversary of the incorporation of the town—an occasion which will be full of interest to all who claim a kindred tie with the early settlers whose names still live in the annals of their numerous descendants, at home and abroad. The old town will no doubt witness on the 4th of July such a gathering of her children as was never before assembled in her borders, and the Committee have prepared an excellent programme of entertainment for that occasion. To enable them to carry their arrangements successfully, it will be noticed that the residents of the town are invited to contribute to the refreshment, and will be waited upon by those appointed for that purpose. The response will, of course, be a hearty one, and the most enjoyable occasion will be the result of the labors of the Committee.

FRESH PEAS, LETTUCE, ASPARAGUS, RADISHES, ONIONS, GREENS, POTATOES &c., C. W. Stevens Market, basement C. S. Williams Store, corner Front and Washington street, Weymouth Landing.

SUNDAY TRAIN—We are informed that a Sunday train is to be run between Boston and Lynn, via the Old Colony, South Shore and Cohasset & Duxbury roads, commencing the 2nd inst. It is supposed that the travel to the various sea-side resorts all along the coast will make this excursion train a remunerative operation. The train will leave Boston in the morning and return at night.

DROWNS—Two little boys, aged 4 and 5 years, sons of Mr. Lewis C. Martin and George H. Stetson, of East Weymouth, were drowned in the reservoir of the Weymouth Iron Co., in that place, last Saturday. They were playing on the bank of the reservoir, and accidentally fell into the water.

CORONER—George W. White, Jr., was called in, but did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. The victim was a pupil in the Grant street school, and at the funeral on Monday afternoon, the scholars of the school assembled at the grave, and sang an appropriate and touching selection.

FIRE AND EXPLOSION—Last Tuesday afternoon, the distilling building of E. S. Hunter's Fireworks Laboratory, Weymouth, took fire from some unknown cause, the interior of the building with a small lot of Roman candles, being badly damaged. After the fire had been subdued, a boy named Edward Allen, of East Braintree, undertook to remove small can of powder from the building, and just as he had got it out, it burst upon the ground outside of the building, the can exploded, the clothes being burned from the upper part of his body, and his face, neck and breast badly burned. He ran to a water hole near by, and plunged in quenching the flames. He was taken to the residence of Dr. Forsyth, who dressed the burns, and his friends carried him home.

At the moment of the explosion, two other boys, named J. H. Coleran and Fred Doherty, were standing near by, and sustained slight injuries, by their faces and hands being burned. Mr. Charles Linton, who had cautioned the Allen boy against meddling with powder, was having been hit in the eye, and escaped injury, though he was bewildered for a moment by the shock.

The pecuniary loss on stock and building will not probably be over $100.

Nice Vermont Butter at Stevens Market, Weymouth.

MASONIC—Delta Lodge of Weymouth and South Shore Commandery of East Weymouth, and Old Colony Encampment of Abington, have voted to turn out for the procession at the dedication of the Soldiers' Monument in Braintree, next week.

South Shore Commandery will participate in the ceremonies of consecration and installation of Bay State Commandery, at Braintree, June 24.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER—The Fire Department and citizens of Brighton tendered a complimentary supper to their chief engineer, Mr. Joseph I. Bates, on Tuesday evening of last week. Mr. Bates has filled the office in an acceptable manner for two or three years, and the addresses made by his colleagues that evening were highly complimented in his efficiency. Mr. Bates' successor in the office is Rev. C. A. Holbrook, rector of the Episcopal parish in Brighton. Mr. Bates has removed to Weymouth, where he has commenced business in his former line of trade.

All kinds of fresh fish at the lowest cash prices, at Stevens Market, corner Front and Washington streets, Weymouth.

LEGISLATIVE DOCUMENTS—We are indebted to Representative Rogers, of Weymouth, for copies of State publications and also for a card of invitation to the Summer oration in Boston, Tuesday, for which we will accept our thanks.

THE BALL PLAYERS—On Saturday, June 23, at N. Canterbury & Sons' factory, East Weymouth, have challenged the ballists at M. C. Dizer & Co.'s factory to play a match game of base ball, next Saturday afternoon.

OLD COLONY STEAMBOAT COMPANY—At a meeting of the members of the Old Colony Steamboat Company, the committee appointed to complete the arrangements for the purchase and transfer of the property of the Narragansett Steamboat Company made their report, which was accepted. With the elegant steamer train to Fall River, and the magnificent steamer Providence and Bristol on the Sound, travel will be easily had between Boston and New York the most comfortable and luxurious of any route, and as the vigorous and careful management which has distinguished the Railroad Company will now be extended to the steamer line, the route will prove to be exceedingly popular with the traveling public.

"OLD AND NEW" for June contains the following:—"The Way we Live Now, Country Sights and Sounds, M. H. Hinckley, A Leaf from a Journal, My Temple, The Fatalist, Our Sketching Club, Government by Parties, The Poet's Theme, The Protestant Theory of Authority, Scrope; or, The Lost Library, The Misers of Marseilles, and other interesting matter.

LIFE INSURANCE—By reference to our advertising columns, the friends of Gen'l B. F. Pratt, of North Weymouth, will see that he has resumed his old business, and may be found at 22 Broad Street, Boston, at the office of the Security Life Insurance Company of New York, where he is prepared to take applications for policies or Life Insurance in that, or in any other first class company.

SUDDEN DEATH—Deacon Charles A. Wright, a well known and respected citizen of South Weymouth, died on Saturday night last, very suddenly, having retired to bed in usual health. The cause of death was disease of the heart.

Braintree.

THE BASE to the new Soldiers' monument has arrived at the Depot, in South Braintree. The statue is expected daily and will be set in its place probably by Saturday the 13th. Great preparations are being made by our citizens for the dedication, which occurs on Wednesday the 17th, and should the day be pleasant a large gathering is anticipated.

The procession will start from the Town House at 1 o'clock precisely, and after making a circuit through several of the streets, will return to the monument, where the exercises will be held at 1 1/2 o'clock. The Oration by Gen. Banks, in the Hall, will be delivered at 2 o'clock.

Dr. Simmons, who resides on Granite street, had 20 fine sheep killed by a Newfound Dog on the night of the 4th instant. The dog was found in the enclosure in the morning, unable to escape, and was secured. Dr. Simmons lost 31 sheep two weeks since in the same way.

A mad dog was killed at South Braintree last Sabbath, belonging to Mr. A. F. Bump, of that place.

DEDICATION OF THE FREE THAYER LIBRARY—On Thursday afternoon, the 4th ult., our new Library, which was dedicated with appropriate ceremony, was more than one year ago, was dedicated with appropriate ceremony.

The weather was fair, with signs of rain, and a fair audience in attendance, the services commencing at 3 1/2 o'clock P.M. The Braintree Brass Band was present and enlivened the occasion by the sweet sounds from brazen throats. Prayer was offered by Rev. Thomas A. Thompson, of the First Church, and a quartette sung by Mr. Hiram Wilder, Mrs. Marcus A. Perkins, Mrs. Samuel W. Hollis, and Miss Anna Arnold, accompanied by Mr. Elmer Marston.

The report of the Building Committee was read by Hon. F. A. Hobart, in which all particulars relating to the Library, from its first inception by the author, were given. The whole history of the building, including the cost and grading, as stated in the report, was $3,500.

Again the band discoursed a favorite air, the quartette club following with melodious strains; then came the presentation remarks by Rev. George A. Thayer, chairman of the Executives of Gen. Thayer's will, who had previously given the keys of the Library to the chairman of the building committee, followed by the services of the same into the hands of Asa French, Esq., Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Both of these gentle men made fitting and eloquent remarks highly eulogizing the character of the late Gen. Thayer, entering somewhat into the detail of his distinguished military career, of his princely munificence and his high position as a private citizen.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1874.

NOTICES.

During the thunder storm on Tuesday, the 29th, the house of Mr. Warren Mansfield was struck by lightning, but without serious injury. A chimney in the L. of the house was considerably shattered, the bricks falling to the ground, barely saving a piece of iron from a tub; he was thrown to the ground by the shock, but recovered without assistance. A girl living in the family who stood inside the door, was also knocked down, and her feet considerably scorched. The rooms near the chimney injured, were filled with smoke, and the smell of sulphur pervaded the house. The rain continued, and the wind blew with great force. The boy of Mr. Sumner Hollis was also struck, but with the exception of a few shingles being torn off, no damage was done; the trees in many places were considerably injured by the wind.

[For the Gazette.] OLD COLONY LAWS.

1643. It is ordered: that Wampam-pa shall pass current in the payment of debts to the amount of forty shillings, the white at eight a penny, the black at four, so far as they be without breaches or deforming shots, except in payment of county rates to the treasurer, which no town or person may not be accepted thereof, from time to time. It is ordered by the court and the authority thereof, that for yearly choosing of assistants (magistrates), the freemen shall use Indian Corn and Beans, the Indian corn to manifest election, the beans contrary; and if any freeman shall put in more than ten bushels, he shall be fined for his port of any such recklessness—ten pounds.

1658. It is ordered by this court, that no man shall take any tobacco within twenty rods of any house, or so near as may entitle him to the same, or any barn, corn, or hay rack, as may occasion the firing thereof upon pain of ten shillings for every such offence done by means thereof.

In 1658 Plymouth Colony enacted a law, that whoever refused the office of Governor shall pay twenty pounds unless he was close two years going."

J. W. P.

[For the Gazette.] WHAT THE WEST NEEDS!

A CHANCE FOR INVENTORS! Western farming is largely done by machinery; plowing is done much after the same fashion as in New England, and the crops of the east, but wheat and oats are sown, corn is planted and cultivated, and potatoe are dug by machinery, and can be stacked, by horse power, and now comes an inventive genius with his machine for picking corn from the stalks and husking it. It is said that the contrivance will save time, and it has been generally introduced because it fails to pick up corn that has fallen down. Washing machines, wringers, patent churns, and mashing grates, aid the housekeeper, as much as farm machinery helps the farmer.

Though machines are so numerous, have been brought to such a high degree of perfection, and are adapted to such a great variety of work, various other contrivances are needed to supply the growing demands of the great west.

First, there need a "Double-Joshua Project," to stretch the length of the days, from twenty four to ninety-six hours each, so that they can put in more time, earn more money, and give their hogs, calves, and colts a better chance to grow in one season. An ordinary Joshua would not answer at all, as he only stretched his day into two days, and taking short of ninety-six hours in a day would satisfy the long and arid climate of the west.

To further save time, the western farmer needs a machine to eat his dinner and do his sleeping for him so that he can spend night and day in the fields, and about the stable. Frequently he can see from two to four days work done where he has one day in which to do it.

As it is claimed that man and wife are thoughtful geniuses suggests that the wife might save her husband's time by eating his dinner for him; but actual experience proves that this idea stands on a sandy foundation, as the husband declares that all his wife eats not nourish him a bit. Gluttonous wives regret that this plan does not work, as they like the eating well enough, and any one who will invent either of the above named contrivances is sure of a fortune.

N. B. The Double Joshua Project is in greater demand than the Front Action Eating Machine, and inventors will please turn their attention to it.

The inventor would like to introduce them as soon as they can be manufactured. Inventors please address the undersigned.

J. W. WHEELER, of Wheeler's Grove, Pittsfield, Co., PERGLINE.

Martha's Vineyard.

The exodus of Weymouth residents who are interested in Oak Bluff estates to their favorite summer resort, has commenced, and the rush to this "paradise by the sea" bids fair to exceed that of any former years. To the management of the Old Colony Railroad the traveling public is largely indebted for the facilities of easy and frequent intercourse with this charming resort; a train of elegant and commodious cars running over the route to Wool's Hole at convenient hours, with a steamer transit across the Vineyard Sound, about seven miles, to Oak Bluffs, where will be found good rooms at the different hotels, and board at prices corresponding with individual circumstances.

A prolonged stay at the seaside can be made economical and pleasurable by renting a furnished canvas wall or sheathed cottage, of which there is usually a number to let.

A new and interesting feature of attraction on the island is the railroad from Oak Bluffs to Katama, which will enable the hundred thousand visitors to the Vineyard to enjoy a ride along the shore of the resounding sea, with a charming view all along the route of the blue waters of the Sound dotted with the white sails of the numerous messengers of commerce which make the Vineyard sound their thoroughfare between the North and South.

It is a fact, as has often been said, that there is no one spot along the whole Atlantic Coast which is attracting so much and so favorable attention as the Island of Martha's Vineyard. More than twenty-five hundred cottages have been erected at and around Oak Bluffs, those who have chosen this locality finding in its incomparable summer climate and invigorating sea breezes a natural restorer to wearied minds and jaded bodies.

A truthful writer has said, in speaking of this subject, that "It is no marvel that the tide of popular favor has turned so strongly in the direction of this charming island; its great salubrity is inviting to all alike—the robust as well as the invalid.

The air is uncommonly pure; there are no masses of dead vegetation to poison the fresh and reviving breezes from the ocean, which bring sweetnes to the sense and health to the body.

The whole island is what its name imports, a vineyard full of good things—Every portion of its great and peculiar attractions, from Gay Head to Chappaquiddie, and visitors should not fail to visit every nook and corner of R. Gay Head has treasures for the naturalist and the man of science. Chilmark abounds in hills and dales of unonion beauty.

Vineyard Haven has an outlook from the high lands surrounding her harbor of fine proportions, while West Tisbury, nestled in the hills and dales of unonion beauty, is a picture of surpassing beauty.

As far as the history of the island goes, it is a picture of surpassing beauty.
